Welcome to the American Language Institute (ALI)

Welcome from the Dean and ALI Executive Director

Welcome to the American Language Institute (ALI) at San Diego State University, where excellence has been the universal language since we welcomed our first cohort of students in 1974. The ALI is noted for its internationally recognized English as a Second Language programs, and our city is noted for its 112 kilometers of beautiful coastline, year-round sunshine, and world-famous attractions. It’s no wonder that our city hosts 32 million visitors each year.

Cultural immersion is an important part of the ALI curriculum, and we believe there is no finer institute and no finer city in which to immerse oneself in the pursuit of English-language fluency and academic goals. Both on campus and off, students have endless opportunities to interact with native speakers.

With over 41 years behind us, we’re proud to have welcomed generations of students from around the world. There is no better testimonial to the excellence of our programs, our institute, and our city. We look forward to seeing you here on campus!
